CHINESE GRIEVANCES.

An Influential Deputation Wait Upon His Excellency the Governor of Hongkong.

How the Chinese Merchants Regard the Tax of $50 and Common Women.

At 11 o'clock this morning a representative delegation of Chinese merchants in this city waited upon His Excellency, Sir William Des Voeux, Governor of Hongkong, at the Driard. The deputation was introduced to His Excellency by Mr. Slingsby W. Bethell, his Aide-de-Camp. The deputation was composed of Lung Tai, of Tai Son & Co.; Tai Woo, of Ling Chung & Co.; Lee Yee Hing, of Kwong on Ling; Hong Toy, of Fook Yuen; Kwong K. Yuen, of Hip Lung & Co., and Mong Kow, of Kong on Tai. Mong Kow acted as speaker on behalf of the deputation. They were received in the most cordial manner by His Excellency. Mong Kow, in opening his remarks, referred to the pleasure it gave them to be able to meet and confer with His Excellency on a subject in which they and their countrymen were greatly interested. They felt that the tax of $50 levied by the government of Canada against their coming into the Dominion was a most unjust one, especially so as Hongkong, where they were born and raised, was as much a British dependency as was British Columbia. The amended Chinese act of last session was also a very unfair one, for merchants by its operation were limited as to the time they could remain out of the country in which to transact their business. They hoped His Excellency would consider these matters when he reached his destination and bring their grievances to the attention of the Imperial authorities. Another, and perhaps the most serious of all their grievances, was the system now in vogue of sending common women from Hongkong to this coast in bondage for the purposes of prostitution. They felt this to be a serious injury to their reputation as a people and a blot on their citizenship. They intimated that a plan was being considered for allowing none but married women, the wives of men already on the coast, to leave their country. It was proposed to send to a board in Hongkong the names of the wives either sent for by their husbands, or those who had expressed a desire to join their partners in a foreign country. The women so applying, or those sent for would be examined as to their health and condition and proof submitted that they were wives. This ascertained, passports then would be issued enabling them to leave their country. The presence in Victoria of so many common Chinese women and the treatment accorded them was a matter which affected the morals of their people, and they hoped Sir William would lend his best endeavors to put a check to the manner in which they were shipped out of their country as slaves, for a debasing purpose. Those residing here who were married and bringing up families felt the opprobium attaching to the system.

Sir William stated that he sympathized with the deputation in the views they had expressed. In many parts of the world in which he resided he had invariably rendered their countrymen such assistances as was in his power. The matter of the $50 tax was certainly a hardship, but Canada had self, or responsible government, and could pass such legislation as the people through their representatives in parliament demanded. Practically neither Her Majesty nor the Imperial parliament in this respect could interfere. Sir William had heard of the manner in which the Chinese were treated here. He regretted to learn that in many instances that treatment had not been what it should have been. His Excellency endeavored to ascertain if it was on moral grounds that objections were raised to the system of bringing common women to this country. He was assured in the affirmative. He then pointed out the to them a few difficulties which existed. He reminded them of their countrymen's cuteness, and expressed the fear that their well-known activity and sharpness would devise some way of overcoming any prohibitive measure which might be introduced. He assured them that he would give the representations made to him full consideration and that his best efforts to remedy the grievances thus complained of might be relied upon. He certainly would take a warm interest in the Chinese of Victoria, and such representations as were made on their behalf would be duly investigated and attention given thereto which its importance demanded. So long as they were loyal subjects of Her Majesty they might expect impartial treatment. The last subject referred to was a serious one, for there was no guarantee against unscrupulous persons embarking in the traffic. He had frequently remarked the absence of women in Chinese communities. Where there was a will there was a way, and he would endeavor to reach the bottom of the matters which had been brought under his observation.

The deputation thanked him for his cordial reception and kindness in giving them an audience, and then withdrew. His Excellency recalled and entered into a lengthy conversation with Mon Kow on various topics. Sir William's demeanor imparted a favorable impression to his interviewers who will watch his career in the Flowery Kingdom with great interest.

Give Them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC.

Influence of the Establishment of New Line of Steamers in Japan.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The opening of the Canadian Pacific and the establishment of a line of steamers from Vancouver to Yokahama and Hongkong is creating extraordinary interest in Japanese political and commercial circles. The native journals are actively discussing the probable effects of the development of the new route on the commercial position of Japan, which, they think, may be completely revolutionized by it. If, they say, goods for China and other countries in the East are conveyed by this route, Japan would have in the East a position corresponding to that of Great Britain in the West as a commercial and banking centre. At present, while the Suez canal is the main route, Japan stands alone at the extreme end of the chain of communications. With the Canadian Pacific steamship and railway lines in active operation Japan should be the centre of the Eastern trade, and accordingly Japanese merchants are urged to be up and doing. It is suggested that the native steamship companies connect Hongkong and Singapore with Yokahama, and possibly extend the line to Australia, later thus increasing the number of feeders of the Canadian Pacific. Whatever the result may be, the officials of the Canadian Pacific have succeeded in arousing to a very high degree Japanese commercial energy and ambition.

Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever is cured in from one to three simple applications made at home. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free on receipt of stamp, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 King street West, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Standard.

AMERICAN NEWS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—By the arrival of the steamer Alameda to-day advices were received from Sydney to August 10th, and from Auckland to August 15th. In Queensland all the Chinamen had been ordered to leave the new gold field at Ole mont. The Chinamen are resisting with force. Several are getting good gold and decline to leave. Great trouble is anticipated as the police are insufficient. An anti-Chinese open air meeting was held at South Brisbane, Queensland, on the 27th ittst. A resolution was unanimously passed calling upon the Legislature to protect the white population by stringent legislation including a poll tax not less than £100 and an annual tax of £10 on all Chinese in the colony.

THE HAWAIIAN REVOLUTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—The steamer Alameda, which arrived from Australia and Honolulu to-day, brings news that an earnest preparation for the election of September 12th is going on. Everything is prepared for the republic should the change be desirable. Hayselden, son-in-law of the old Premier Gibson, who was arrested on a charge of bribery, was acquitted on that charge, there not being sufficient proof against him.

Clarence Washford, Attorney-General in the new Hawaiian Cabinet, was a passenger on the steamer Alameda. Speaking of the revolution in the Kingdom, said: "The feeling of the populace was largely in favor of the republic but that there was no doubt that the new constitution would be sustained and if accepted properly by Kalakua he would remain on the throne."

The nominees for the new House of Nobles and House of Representatives are nearly all Americans or Englishmen.

LORD HERSCHELL.

The ex-Lord High Chancellor to Arrive in Victoria.

Lord Herschell, who was occupant of the Woolsack when Gladstone introduced his historic Home Rule Bill, and President of the British House of Lords—a brilliant opponent of Lord Salisbury and his government—is expected to arrive at the Driard House to-night from the east. His party, in addition to Lady Herschell, comprises Mr. Williamson, barrister, of London, and Mr. Buller, also a barrister, both scions of old families in England.

Lord Herschell was elevated to the peerage as Baron Herschell in order to take the post of Lord High Chancellor under the late Gladstone administration, and held that important office for a brief period. The professional career of the noble Lord has been most brilliant, and as a counsel he had few equals. He was born in the year 1837, the son of the Rev. R. H. Herschell, of London. Called to the Bar of Lincoln's Inn in the year 1860, he rose rapidly in the ranks of the legal profession, and in twelve years had obtained the silk gown of a Queen's counsel, and was made a bencher of the Inns of Court, of which he was a member. From the years 1873 to 1880 he filled the office of Recorder of Carlisle, and in the latter year was made Solicitor-General, holding the office until his assuming the Lord Chancellorship when Gladstone formed his last Cabinet. For a man of 50 years Lord Farrer looks young and hearty except that gray has tinged the dark hairs, and the gray haired signs of age have even more definitely marked the side whiskers which are worn in English legal style without moustache or "goatee." Five feet eight inches, my lord does not appear one-half inch taller. He is a small man, not corpulent, but he looks every bit a lord. The observer might know he is English, he might be mistaken for somebody else than a lord, but at a casual glance you could not mistake him for other than an English gentleman. His visit—the first he has made to this continent—is for health and recreation. He is an advocate of Home Rule for Ireland, and believes a few years at most will witness the consummation of that dream of the Irish heart.

THE CLANS.

Gathering of the Mainland Clansmen at New Westminster.

The annual gathering of the New Westminster Caledonian Society, on Thursday, 1st inst., was a decided success. Representatives of St. Andrew's and sister Caledonian Societies from Victoria, Nanaimo and Vancouver were present. The Society formed and marched in procession, and headed by Piper Carmichael, marched through the city. Many of the members were dressed in the garb of the gael, with philibbeg broad axe and claymore, presenting an extremely attractive appearance, whilst others wore some distinguishing badge representative of the Land of brown heath and shaggy wood.

Chief Bonson led the Clansmen. On the grounds were many young girls with tartan, sashes and ribbons.

A Friend of the Northwest.

Dr. Edmunds, of London, England, who has been in the city for some days leaves for the east to-morrow. He has engaged passage by the Parisian, Allan line on the 5th Oct. This is the doctor's first visit to the coast. Last year he made a tour of the Northwest and is a staunch friend of that section of Canada. With this province he expresses himself as agreeably disappointed. With our resources he has become familiar and considers there is a bright future in store for us. The doctor's faith in the resources and ultimate future of the country have led him to take a lively interest in promoting emigration from populous Britain. He has written several excellent letters on the subject which have been published in leading English newspapers and which he has now collected and published in pamphlet form in order to aid him in replying to intending settlers who ask him for information concerning the Northwest. On his return it is understood he will enlarge his pamphlet and insert therein chapters relating to this city and the province generally. The doctor is medical officer of health and public analyst for St. James, London, and also senior physician to the London temperance hospital.

LORD HERSCHELL.

Lord HERSCHELL, much better known as Sir FARRER HERSCHELL, Q. C., is expected to arrive this (Monday) night. As Radical member of Parliament for Durham, Mr. HERSCHELL was a very popular member of the House of Commons, and was appointed by Mr. GLADSTONE Solicitor-General, which post, with $30,000 a year and fees besides, he held for the five years, 1880-1885. When a lawyer becomes a Solicitor-General or an Attorney-General he must accept a Knighthood, and he became Sir FARRER, though many have been the protests against the acceptance of a title which means so little. It is stated that when Mr. VERNON HARCOURT became Solicitor-General he rebelled against the assumption of the title, and when Mr. GLADSTONE told him in his most dulcet tones that he should consider it a great honor to be made a Knight, and that it was a special mark of the favor of Her Majesty the Queen, Mr. VERNON HARCOURT is said to have shut GLADSTONE up by asking why in thunder he did not take a Knighthood himself! Fancy Sir W. GLADSTONE! Still there is no escape, so Mr. FARRER HERSCHELL had to become perforce Sir FARRER. Mr. HERSCHELL was for many years leader of the Northern circuit bar, which included Manchester and Liverpool, and there were giants in those days, for CHAS. RUSSELL and SAM. POPE and Mr. MANISTY (now Judge MANISTY) were his competitors and contemporaries.

Mr. GLADSTONE promoted Sir FARRER HERSCHELL to be Lord Chancellor of England, with $50,000 a year somewhat out of the usual course, because Sir FARRER's then superior, Sir HENRY JAMES, Q. C., Attorney-General, declined to leave the bar, and more especially the House of Commons, to be buried in the House of Lords. It has happened, however, that Lord HERSCHELL has not been politically buried, for his dining-room has been more important politically for months past than the whole of the House of Lords. It was thus that the round table conferences were held, with Lord HERSCHELL as chairman, at which attempts were made for months to heal the breach in the Liberal party. Lord HERSCHELL was, of course, Mr. GLADSTONE's representative, along with Sir WM. HARCOURT and Sir GEORGE TREVELYAN, and Mr. JOS. CHAMBERLAIN represented the small minority of dissenting Liberals. The conferences under Lord FARRER HERSCHELL's chairmanship resulted in one great achievement for Sir GEORGE TREVELYAN was brought back to the fold again, and Mr. JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN wants very much to come back as well.

Lord HERSCHELL is, we believe, a Baptist and in any case he has always proved himself a prominent friend of religious liberty. It is not often that we have in Victoria two members of the House of Lords who have not been born to the position; but to-day we have in the Bishop of Rochester one of Mr. DISRAELI's peers and Lord HERSCHELL a peer of Mr. GLADSTONE's and one who will most likely be Lord Chancellor again before many months have passed.

MANITOBA'S ABUNDANT YIELD

This is Manitoba's jubilee year in earnest. Her wheat crop this season is an extraordinarily large one—the largest they ever had. The Winnipeg Commercial, in its summary of the situation, says that of wheat and wheat-flour from the crop of 1887 the exports promise to be double what they were last year. The lowest estimate of surplus wheat for export is 6,000,000 bushels. Other estimates run considerably over this figure. Of oats there will, we learn, be enough to supply the western territories. The three oatmeal mills in the province will also manufacture for export. The sample is said to be excellent. The barley crop may not turn out a very good sample as regards color. It is not likely that this grain will be exported to any extent, as it can be used at home for feed. All root and vegetable crops will be large. Potatoes will be an enormous crop, and as the eastern crop promises to be light it will not be surprising should Manitoba export a considerable quantity eastward. There will be a sufficient surplus of potatoes and other vegetables to supply the importing districts of the western territories and British Columbia. Manitoba can it is announced produce cheese of unequalled quality in richness of flavor, and the excellence of the product is already commencing to be recognized abroad. Instead of importing Manitoba will have a surplus sufficient to supply the country westward to the Pacific coast and, at present prices, cheese could be profitably exported to Montreal and Liverpool. In butter there will be a considerable surplus for export, and a considerable export movement has been going on as far west as Victoria. There is great room for improvement, both in quality and mode of packing. These considerations of quality and packing which are here mentioned are most important, and, because of their neglect, thousands and thousands of pounds of butter do not realize the returns that otherwise they would obtain. Experience has shown that it pays to make as nearly approaching "gilt edge" butter as possible. It always commands its price as compared with the inferior article. The range of prices on the market amply demonstrates this. It is quite possible that, when everybody makes strictly first-class butter, the top price may not be quite as high as it is now, but there could be no comparison between the average prices that would then be obtainable and those which now rule when there is so much common stuff scarcely fit for anything more than axle grease. It pays to produce the very best article no matter in what line. It gives more satisfaction to the consumer who though he may not be in a position to purchase the same quantity as of the other is still better pleased and cannot fail to conclude that at least his money has been judiciously expended. Moreover, it is not certain that we may not add that to purchase the best article is in the long run cheaper for the consumer, since it goes farther, which, together with other considerations, is the test of true economy.

MORALLY ROTTEN.

A St. Thomas, Ontario, despatch of the 30th ultimo states that the Times of that city, on the previous evening, published an article to the effect that "St. Thomas is morally rotten, and that there is no other city of its size on the continent where there is so little respect paid to the virtue of womanhood." The attention of the Rev. HUGH JOHNSTON and Mr. WILLIAM GOODERHAM should be directed to the saintly city of South Western Ontario, where within a distance of 100 miles of Toronto they will find much to dilate upon, and ample scope for their talents in the direction of elevating fallen man and womankind. Nothing to be compared to the reputation a local journal has given St. Thomas has ever been said of Victoria, the fairest and amongst the newest of the Canadian city sisterhood.

Messrs. Paterson and Trow are firm in the belief that the period is not far remote when the Hon. Ed. Blake will again resume the position of leader of the opposition. The health of the honorable gentleman is improving rapidly, he sleeps well and enjoys his meals. The severe nervous prostration from which he was suffering is disappearing. This will be acceptable news to Mr. Blake's many friends throughout the country.

Of all the provinces of the Dominion, says the Toronto Monetary Times, Ontario produces the largest quantity of cereals; and the yield of the harvest here is, on this account, of general interest to all Canadians. The time may come when Ontario will cease to be the premier agricultural province, and some province in the Northwest will take the precedence. But at present the Ontario harvest is the principal factor in the prosperity of the Dominion. According to the bulletin of the Ontario Bureau of Industries, the harvest is short in all the cereals and in potatoes and whatever reliance may be placed on precise figures, the general statement, however unwelcome, must be accepted as correct.

GLADSTONE'S ORATORY.

The Old Man Eloquent—Still Enchanting His Audiences.

A correspondent, who had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Gladstone in one of his recent speeches, thus writes: His eyes retain their piercing brightness, and the animation of the old man's face is a thing of which to dream. When he was on his feet, a hundred lively gestures of outstretched finger, clenched hand, arm sweeping through the air, and palm pressed to his heart, lent effect to his eloquence, and he turned freely round about in his accustomed style to enchain in succession every part of his audience with his arguments. Perhaps after he had been speaking for eighty minutes a little weariness appeared on that aged face, and in profile it then looked somewhat drawn. But no wonder; for we had long been breathing the most undiluted poison in the suffocating atmosphere of an execrably ventilated hall. But, shaking off his weariness, the old orator finished his speech of more than an hour and a half after the magnificent style in which a mettlesome race horse bounds to the winning post. Alas! for his voice. How different now in its hoarseness from the bell-like organ which last spoke in that hall nine years ago! Yet still it plays a subtle music, and lends itself to every passion of the soul.

The Marine Observatory.

The Toronto Mail's Ottawa correspondent says: "Nothing will be done this year towards the erection of the proposed marine observatory on the southwest coast of Vancouver Island. Minister Foster, when in British Columbia last year, promised to give the matter due consideration, and, I am informed, is prepared to proceed with the construction of a lighthouse at Bonilla Point, which is considered the most suitable location, at any moment. An observatory would, however, be useless without telegraphic communication with Victoria, and as the Public Works Department has no appropriation to build the necessary eighty miles of wire, the matter will have to be laid over until next year.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember! No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Boys' and Girls' Lunch.

A gentleman of leisure stopped recently near one of the coffee and pie stands that abound down town in the neighborhood of large employing establishments with the purpose of ascertaining what the boys and girls ate and drank at their noonday lunch. So soon as the whistle blew for 12 o'clock he found the stands swarmed and more coming. Many of the boys and girls came kettle in hand, which was filled with either "coffee" or milk, and after a light purchase of pie or cake the lunch was carried to the shop for consumption. The milk is necessarily good, as it wouldn't pay the proprietor of the stand to have it otherwise, and have an inspector with his lactometer to discover it. The "coffee" is not subject to official suspicion, and therefore is generally worthy of doubt. The pies, he fancied, must be good, as they are supplied by great manufacturers who turn them out by the thousands and can afford to put palatable "works" of varied ingredients into them, as by buying fruits and berries and sugar in big quantities they get them very cheap. As to the crust, it isn't any too rich. The cakes were dry, and what nourishment the girls that eat them obtain from the peculiar food is a puzzle. One accomplished young lady, who boasted of a thick bang, when questioned on the subject, replied: "Oh, we soaks 'em." A boy called for a piece of rhubarb pie, and washed it down with a glass of lemonade. He took his lunch after the style of other gentlemen—those who patronize down town Delmonico's, Nash & Crook's and the Astor house. He ate from the counter and called for his check. Possibly he tipped the waiter, too. —New York Times.

Professor Gray's Telautograph.

Professor Elisha Gray, of telephone fame, is perfecting an invention with wonderful possibilities, and one which promises great results. It has already reached that stage which insures its practical success, the experiments thus far proving eminently satisfactory. The "telautograph" is the name by which the instrument will be known, which, by the way, conveys a very fair idea of what the instrument really is. Once in operation it will be possible for the Chicago speculator to deliver to the New York broker a telautographic order to buy or sell 1,000 or 10,000 shares of railroad stock, an exact fac simile of the order being reproduced in that city at the same instant it is written here. If the Chicago man happens to be in New York and wants to send his wife a check for money he simply writes it out in that city, and the moment he is through it is in his wife's hands here. The electric current, of course, is an important factor in the invention, but the chief feature is the plate or instrument on which the writing is done. No particular kind of pen or pencil has to be used; in fact, a sharp pointed instrument of any kind, or even a piece of wood, will answer the purpose. The paper on which the writing is done and the autograph reproduced does not have to be prepared, for in the first instance it is the pressure on the plate which gives the impulse to the machine, while the reproduction is brought about by a tracing point, which may be a properly inked pen or even an ordinary lead pencil attached to a movable arm in the receiving machine at the other end of the line.—Chicago Tribune.

Wouldn't Sell His Drunk so Cheap.

Standing in the lobby of a hotel in Bangor not long ago I got into conversation with a gentleman who was representing a medical apparatus with a long Greek name. It is not my intention to give the arrangement for vapor baths a puff, but I do want to describe a rather funny incident that followed our conversation. My companion had just been describing to me how his process would sober off in half an hour a man on the verge of delirium tremens, and how many men never thought of going home to their families without having recourse to his machine. While we were talking a man, evidently very much under the influence of too potent libations, came in, and, leaning over the counter, began a rather thick conversation with the clerk. We sauntered over, and soon were on the best of terms with the devotee of Bacchus. After a while the man said he wished he could taper off and go home. Here was an opportunity, and the machine above referred to was explained to him. Five minutes later he had staggered up stairs, and stood ready to be cured. His coat was already off, when a drunken idea seized him. "Shay, what er th' cost of a bath?" he asked. "Two dollars," was the reply. "Well, hic, this drunk's cost t'enty dollars, and no feller's goin' to get it for two dollars. I'll keep it first." And he did.—Lewiston Journal.

The Circus Wild West.

About two weeks ago a Dakota farmer was approached by a stranger, who said:

"What will you take for that little short horned yearling out there in the yard?"

"'Bout $15."

"Is he gentle?"

"Yes."

"Never kicks?"

"No."

"No danger of butting a fellow over with his head?"

"Not a bit; my children play with him whenever they take a notion."

"Well, I guess I'll take him. I'm agent for Hollerwell & Showpoor's Anti-European Circus, and we need another buffalo for our "Wild West" department. By the time we put a hump on his shoulders and paint his horns black you wouldn't know your calf. I hope he'll stay gentle, though; the last one we had hooked three of our cowboys off their horses, disabled two Buffalo Bills and drove Texas Jack, the western terror, up the center pole. He acted so we had to tie him up with the elephants, give him a coat of red paint and call him the terrible man eating jogglewock, captured in Central Africa at great expense and loss of life. Do you suppose the calf will drink milk?—the sacred cow gives a little more than the zebra will take."—Dakota Bell.

A Real New York Aristocrat

Is a man who made a brisk canvass as a politician, served well as minister to Italy, models admirably in clay, has written a good book, is now writing a play, manages an estate of $200,000,000 skillfully, and is the virtual head of what undoubtedly ranks as the first family in America. He is clever, brilliant, well born, and has had every advantage that boundless wealth could buy. He can box like a professional, has broad shoulders, and apparently never thinks of his attire. His father calls him "Bill." On every coach that day there were prim, tightly clad, supercilious and overdressed young men, sitting erect and staring with affected indifference at the vulgar herd that surged below them. Undoubtedly they felt like aristocrats, or tried to, but they looked like a lot of tailors' clerks. The only man among them who was absolutely indifferent to his surroundings and his position was William Waldorf Astor.—New York Cor. Argonaut.

Plantation Philosophy.

In one respeck er dog is mighty like er man. De mo' sense he's got de bigger raskil he is.

When I sees er nigger preacher dat I has played craps wid de night befo' git up an' beg de sinners fer corn up ter de bench, I gits so full o' laugh dat I wants ter holler right dar.

In de work o' dis yeah life, 'couragement 'mounts ter as much ez ability. I don't kneebow much sense ter man dat has got ez he has ter work under er lack o' 'couragement, he ain't gwine ter do his best.—Arkansaw Traveler.

Remarkable Auditorium in Chicago.

"If our plans are carried out," said Mr. J Archibald Slumley Jones yesterday, "we shall soon have in Chicago the largest odtorium in the world. There is no reason why these plans should not be carried out, for we have a barrel of money and can get another barrel. The truth of it is that we've got tired of hearing European travelers brag about the Cloahun of Rome and the La Scaly at Mylan and the Don Carlos at Naples. We've just quietly made up our minds to build an odtorium that will knock these foreign theatres cold. We propose to show the world that we've got the money and the culture and the sand to do it."

Odtorium is a Latin compound; it is derived from the two words "idiot" and "aurum;" from the same root comes the old saw, "A fool and his money are soon parted."

Col. Beasley McIntyre, who has subscribed $50,000 to the princely scheme, says that the odtorium will have a "seating capacity for 75,000 souls." It will be built of stone, brick and iron and will be absolutely fireproof. The style of architecture will be mixed—Doric, Sapphic, Ionic, Sulphuric and Physic, with a dash here and there of the Lewis K. Torx renaissance. The theatorium will be in the shape of a ham; there will be orchestra stalls upon the main floor, then four rows of galleries of private boxes, and finally three rows of balconies. The tapestry drop curtain will be 120 feet long, 100 feet high and five inches thick, and it will be illuminated with a hand painted tableau of Apollo, the nine muses and a company of nymphs approaching Chicago over the Michigan Central railroad and under the interstate commerce bill in a long train of Pullman palace cars. Large sounding boards will be placed here and there to increase the accoustics of the hall. In the basement there will be a barber shop and a Turkish bath, which, to use the words of Col. McIntyre, "will be a fac simile of the famous Roman baths of Caracalla." The building will be about fifteen stories high, the highest artificial structure on the continent, except Pike's Peak and Long John Wentworth.

This imposing odtorium will be used on special occasions only—for political conventions, opera festivals, schools of summer philosophy, national butchers' conventions, Thomas concerts, literary reunions and the like. It will cost about $6,000,000, but it will be a corker.—Chicago News.

Honesty Always Wins.

Irate Citizen—See here, sir, that land you sold me is under water half the time.

Real Estate Man—Yes, I supposed you wanted it for a fish pond. Don't see what you bought it for if you didn't.

"Great snakes! Why didn't you say it wasn't fit to build on! How was I to know the Missouri river had a mortgage on it?"

"I stated the fact that it was very low land in my advertisment."

"Never said a word about it."

"Oh, you're mistaken. It was in great big type. 'Land for Sale Very Low.'"—Omaha World.

Question of Cereals.

O'Brien—Phwat ails yur fut, Casey

Casey—I has a cor'n, an' it spoils me walkin'.

O'Brien—Faith, it's rye thot it spoils mone. —Judge.

The Dark Side of Things.

Some people will persist in taking a gloomy view of everything. There is a man of this kind in Austin, living in ward No. 12. A neighbor happened to drop in to see him the other day and found everybody lively except the head of the family.

"How are you all coming on?"

"We are all tolerable except Bob. He is laughing and joking because he is going fishing. I just know that he is going to come home drowned and howling with a fish hook sticking in him somewhere."

"Well, the rest seem to be cheerful."

"Yes, sorter. Jemimy is jumping and skipping about because she is going to a candy pulling, but I know something will happen to her. I read of a girl in Philadelphia only last year who was coming from a candy pulling, when a drunken man threw his wife out of a three story window and killed her."

"Killed who? Jemimy?"

"Why, no; there she is; but it might have been her, if she had been on the pavement below where the woman fell."

"Well, you are looking healthy."

"Yes, I feel just like the man did who dropped dead in New York last week from heart disease. He was in high spirits and had a good appetite, and there's just my symptoms."—Texas Siftings.

Pat's Idea of Civil Service Examinations.

"There was Pat McGinnis (said an Irishman who was seeking a place in the navy yard). He says to himself, says he, I'll go for a job as an attendant to the Ward's Island institution. Sure Pat Divver, our alderman, and a foine man he is, do you moind, gives him a card. 'Phat's this?' says Pat. 'We mean,' says the alderman, 'ye will have to prisint yerself to the whitechoker fellows at the city hall, and they will ax you some questions.' 'Phat koind of questions?' says me bowld Pat. 'It's all right, me man,' says the alderman, 'me name will shove you through,' and so Pat goes down to the city hall and they show him to a room. He looks around, and phat d'ye think he seen? He seen a dozen and more gentlemen with eye glasses, and no rust on the wrinkles of their pantaloons. 'Bl heavens!' says Pat, 'schoolmasters from the ould dart, and a foine show I'll have.' The first question that was axed him knocked him out. A little sawed off chap, with red whiskers on the sids of his face, axes Pat: 'Phat's the distance between the sun and the airth?' 'Ye can go to h—l,' says Pat, 'and take the question with you. I'll go back along shore,' and he wint."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Tell the Whole Story.

A religious exchange, in a column of "Anecdotes of Animals," tells of a dog owned by the Kingston City street railroad company which recently watched the blacksmith shoe one of the horses, and then "held up one of his own paws and showed plainly enough that he, too, wanted to be shod." It does seem as if a church paper, above all others, shouldn't be afraid to tell the whole truth, but it appears this one is. After the blacksmith had refused to shoe the dog he sat around the shop till night, chewing plug tobacco, while he found fault with the weather and complained concerning the poor crops and had about what an awful fellow he used to be to bind wheat. —Dakota Bell.

Got Away Safe.

Bunko Steerer—Isn't this Mr. Smith, of Smithville?

Stranger—No; I'm Mr. Keely, of Philadelphia.

Bunko steerer moves off in great haste.—New York Sun.

He, She and It.

She (parrot in one hand, dog in the other)—Yes, Edward, we've got everything, I believe—but, where's the baby?

He—Why, I gave it to you.

She—I know, and I gave it back to you.

He—Well, by thunder! if I haven't gone and left it in the parlor car.—Exchange.

—A correspondent asks the Colonist the following question: "If the Abyssinia had gone ashore while an uncertificated pilot was in charge, would the insurance have been affected?" To which the editor answers that "not a dollar could have been collected from the underwriters on either ship or cargo." We believe our contemporary is not an authority on insurance, or, for that matter, on anything else, else he would not have written anything so stupid. The learned editor in a feet states that the action of the commander of a vessel invalidates an insurance on cargo to which he is not a party any more than the sage in question. Surely this cannot be law because it is not common sense.

Smoke "Creme de la Creme" Cigars.

From Alaska.

The Idaho arrived at Port Townsend last night from Alaska. The news is meagre. The authorities were awaiting the arrival of the revenue cutter before beginning the trial of the prisoners who were arrested for catching seal in Behring Sea. Mr. Drake, Q. C., is passing the time as best he can, and is being given ample opportunity to get up his case.

Important.

The goods damaged by water in consequence of the fire in the Arcade building will be sold at private sale commencing on Tuesday at Spencer's Arcade. Brussels Carpets, Tapestry Carpet, Felt and Hemp Carpet, Rope Matting, Kidderminster and Three-ply Carpets, Hearthrugs, Mats.

Men's and Boys' Hats, Caps, Ties, Gloves, Shirts, Socks, Underwear; also the goods damaged by the smoke. All goods will be marked in plain figures and sold for cash only.

Our Sharpshooters.

A dispatch from Ottawa says that Gunner Beckwith won the second prize in the 500-yards' series with 34 points, and the sixteenth in the 900 yards' series with 25. Gunner Sargison won prizes in the Manufacturer's match and in the 500 and 900-yards' series. Sergeant Newbury won the eleventh prize in the 900-yards' series with 27 points. In the skirmishing matches fourteen teams entered, British Columbia taking the fourth and sixth places. Unfavorable weather for good shooting has prevailed during the weole meeting.

Really! The Creme de la Creme.

Serious Mishap.

On Sunday morning Charles, son of Mr. Robert Porter, who lives on the Burnside road, while out hunting had occasion to climb a high fence. In doing so he fell heavily upon his head inflicting a long and deep gash in his forehead. His father, the moment he became aware of the accident rode into town and returning with medical aid had the wound, which was a most ghastly looking one, properly dressed. The patient will necessarily be confined to the house for some time to come, and there is reason to fear that he will always bear the mark of his unfortunate accident.

Creme de la Creme Cigars; A. B. Gray & Co., Agents.

Sudden Death.

A young man named H. Edney, who registered at the Regina Hotel, Vancouver, as from Port Townsend, died suddenly on Friday, in his room. Although an inquest was held, and a post mortem, the doctors and jury were unable to assign a cause for death and an open verdict was brought in. The deceased was apparently healthy, with the exception of the stomach, the lining of which was congested, possibly from vomiting. Deceased was about 22 years of age, and was a member of Great Western Lodge of Bridport, England, I.O.O.F. The body was interred on Sunday by the Odd Fellows, who generously took charge of the remains, although deceased was a member of a different order.

Nanaimo's Gas Company.

The annual meeting of the Nanaimo Gas Company was held in the City Hall last Saturday. A fair representation of the shareholders in the Company in that city was present. The annual report and financial statement submitted were considered highly satisfactory. The financial statement showed that the operations of the Company for the last year was highly encouraging. The quality of the gas supplied consumers is all that could be desired. The number of consumers, however, is not as large as the enterprise of the company in constructing such fine works in Nanaimo deserves. In this respect enterprise is not encouraged as it should be. The works are capable of supplying a very large consumption.

—Kurtz's Jubilee Cigars are now ready.

A GREAT TREAT.

Messrs. Trow and Paterson to Speak on Wednesday Night.

The citizens of Victoria will be pleased to learn that Messrs. Trow and Paterson, yielding to the desire of many citizens of all shades of politics, have consented to address a public meeting in the Victoria Theatre on Wednesday evening next, the 7th inst. The dress circle will be reserved for ladies and their escorts. Both gentlemen occupy prominent positions as members of the House of Commons. Mr. Trow as leading whip for the opposition commands the respect and esteem of Conservative and Liberal alike. He is also a good speaker. Mr. William Paterson's fame has reached every corner of the Dominion. He is a fluent, powerful speaker and all who can should turn out to hear this talented Canadian of the manor born, who is generally conceded to be Canada's leading "stump" orator.

Passengers

Per the North Pacific: Hon H L Yesler, Gov S Penoyer, Col H Fritz and wife, J D Lcuman, Miss Louman, F W Bryan, A Kelly, F Smith, A H Brown, F Hill, Flint and wife, Miss Flint, Gunton, E A Greyton, Jos Thatcher, A Berry, F Fitch, J S Lewis, T M Howe, Mrs G C McCord, L Dodd, J Dodd, Seligson, J R Larson, Thornton, Harmon, Robb, Beck, Mrs Coburn, Campbell, Adler, Cragie, Mahoney, Captain George, L Deluk, Mrs Durk, 3 Chinamen.

Another Successful Schooner.

The sealing schooner Penelope, Capt. Minor, sailed into the harbor on Sunday afternoon, having on board 1500 skins. From the captain we learn that he saw nothing of the U. S. cutter Rush; spoke July 16th the schooner Black Diamond going into the Behring Sea; on July 25th spoke the schooner San Jose and City of San Diego cruising in the Behring Sea; on the 28th the schooner spoke the Mary Ellen, which reported 1800 skins for the season's catch; the San Jose had at date of hailing 500 skins; the City of San Diego 700; spoke the Theresa and the Lottie Fairfield on August 8th, reporting 700 and 1,200, still hunting, and expecting to leave Behring Sea the last of August.

What's Up.

It is reported on the streets to-day that a well-known citizen, accompanied by a stranger, called on the senior member for this city on Saturday last in a friendly spirit. That the aforesaid senior member informed the visitors that his hour for receiving visitors on public business had passed. On being assured that the parties had no official axe to grind beyond his assistance and advice in securing a situation for the stranger, who was a new-comer, they were advised that in a few weeks the said senior member will have washed his hands of political life and then he will have ease and comfort and free from being pestered with people looking for positions. The query then arises, what does all this mean? Echo answers, what?

Trade With Japan.

Mr. W. H. Taylor, of the firm of Messrs. Corners & Co., Yokohama, arrived in the city on Saturday en route to that city from England. He came via New York, Montreal and Toronto and the C. P. R. to this city. He is a member of a large tea exporting firm and is now on his way home after having visited the British and leading Canadian markets. He is of the opinion that in certain lines a considerable trade is certain to spring up between Canada and Japan. His object in visiting the markets referred to was with the view of ascertaining the lines manufactured and their adaptability to his country, where he has now resided for a quarter of a century. Mr. Taylor is an agreeable, affable gentleman and well versed in all commercial and shipping matters.

Sir Arthur Blackwood, C. B.

This gentleman addressed a large assemblage at the Victoria Theatre on Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. N. Shakespeare, M. P., occupied the chair, and in a few remarks introduced the distinguished visitor who was about to address them. His address was an admirable one through out and was listened to with wrapt attention by all present. He showed the progress the Y. M. C. A. Associations throughout the world were making, and that the good work was producing many beneficial results. He warmly urged upon the young men of this city to persevere in the admirable work they had begun. Many other topics were touched upon by the speaker, who has always taken a warm interest in all questions of social reform and the enlightenment of the heathen, and the amelioration of the condition of the working classes in Britain and elsewhere. A collection in aid of the funds of the association was taken up at the close of the lecture which was a considerable one. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker.

Our Liberal Visitors.

Messrs. Trow and Paterson in company with Mrs. Paterson, Miss Trow and Mr. N. Shakespeare, M. P., paid a visit to the dry dock on Saturday afternoon. That work was by them minutely examined. They went on board H. M. S. Triumph and were hospitably received by the officers. In the evening Chinatown was taken in under police direction with Mr. Shakespeare in their company. They had heard a great deal about the Chinese quarters, but beyond the disregard to the cubic air by-law nothing uncommon was to be observed. The city churches were attended on Sunday as well as a stroll to Beacon Hill park. Victoria under gas light, on Sunday night was undertaken. To the credit of the city be it said not a disorderly person was seen, nor an unseemly voice heard. Mr. Trow, sage-like, observed that even in Stratford, claimed by him to be a moral city such a peaceful Sunday evening could not be found. Along the wharves a death-like stillness prevailed, broken only by the occasional splash of an oar as it dipped in the silvery briny deep which was as smooth as glass. So that we yet shall hear from these representative men of what they saw in Victoria by sun light as well as under the electric rays and gas light. With all they have seen so far they are gratified. Everyone is receiving them cordially.

"Josephine" in Search of a Body—"Diabolical Plot" Between "Philip Sabin" and a "Trusted Clerk."

Is it jim-jams on the part of the local editor, lunacy on the part of a "leading insurance firm" or mere imbecility mixed up with "cussedness" on the part of the "representative of the company?"

The city must have been startled when, with its morning meal, it got dished up to it by our imaginative contemporary, a soul-stirring account of how a "diabolical plot" was frustrated by the vigilance of an insurance company and its lynx-eyed representative, late from 'Frisco. "A great crime was contemplated," we are assured, and,—so as to leave us in no doubt as to the magnitude of the offence which might, could, would, or should, be perpetrated,—"a body" we are told, "would have been procured somewhere or somehow." Now we all know that this manufacturing of corpses is "against the statute in such case provided, the peace of our lady the Queen, her crown and dignity." So that there can be no question as to the enormity of the intended misfeasance, and let it be understood at once, that if "trusted clerk,' or any of the "confederates,' undertake to make one or more bodies for the benefit of "Josephine," or anyone else, he will find himself decorated with a close-fitting necktie of the best manilla hemp which will have cost him not even one "short bit."

Seriously speaking, some one has been taking a rise out of one of the budding geniuses of our esteemed contemporary, and has had him to write a long article in which he has simply made an ass of himself. The report, it is needless to say, though founded on fact, is in every essential erroneous. There is nothing surprising in that, however. To say that it is not without malice and intentionally untruthful, is only to proclaim it a report published in the Colonist. If there is a charge to make against anyone, let it be made plainly and distinctly. These half-veiled attacks and insinuations are cowardly in the extreme, and unworthy of anyone calling himself a man. Imitation, we all know, is the sincerest form of flattery, but it is not necessary that the talented young men connected with our esteemed contemporary should, in order to curry favor with St. David, go on forever lowering their manhood and sacrificing their self-respect.

INTERIOR NEWS.

Crops and Weather—The Rock Creek Mines—The Hospital, &c.

[From the Sentinel, Sept. 3.]

The mill of the Columbia Milling Co., Spallumcheen, will commence grinding next week.

Mr. S. Pope, Supt. of Education, arrived in town on Thursday, and visited the North Thompson school on Friday.

On Thursday morning snow fell at Canmore.

Mr. Justice Walkem, Mrs. Walkem and Miss Rhodes, arrived in town from Okanagan last Sunday.

The mornings and evenings are now somewhat cold, and the nights require considerable blanket covering; but the days, from 8 a. m. to sunset, are delightful, in the calm freshness and purity of the atmosphere and the mild shimmer of the sun's beams resting upon a summer verdure that has not yet changed to its autumn tinge.

A reporter of the Sentinel interviewed Mr. J. McB. Smith, Auditor General, yesterday, in regard to the Rock Creek mines which that gentleman has just visited. Mr. Smith states that those mines will undoubtedly turn out very rich, and that three companies are turning out good stone. The metal can be obtained by burning the ore, stamping it, and then using amalgam. Goods can be delivered at Rock Creek for 3½ cents per lb. from Sicamous via Okanagan provided a wagon road can be opened from Okanagan Lake at or near Penticton by way of Osoyoos Lake, a distance of 40 miles. The opposition would be by way of Spokane Falls, 210 miles distant from Rock Creek, from which there is a wagon road constructed to within 15 miles of the mines in question. Sprague Station on the Northern Pacific is only about 150 miles from the mines, but these routes are met by a protective tariff at the boundary which is a strong set-off to opposition in trade.

Four car loads of cattle were shipped this week from Kamloops to the coast by Mr. Geo. Hayes.

The ranchers in Nicola have all nearly finished harvesting, with a few exceptions the yield has been very fair this season.

The new hotel at Nicola Lake, which is to be called the Driard, will have a grand opening on Friday evening next, including a dinner and ball.

Mr. Frank Parsons, who has been a resident of Nicola for the past year, will, with much regret to the people of that district, leave next week for his home in Guelph, Ontario, on account of ill-health.

One patient, Wm. Lane, of Kamloops, was admitted into the Royal Inland Hospital on Saturday suffering from chronic bronchitis, and one patient, Nils Johnson, was discharged on Wednesday last, cured. George Rankin, a patient, is in a very low state and not expected to recover; but the others are all doing well. There are nine patients in the institution at present.

FACTORS' GATHERING.

An Important Conference Begins its Sessions in Winnipeg.

The long looked-for council of factors of the Hudson Bay Company began its proceedings in Winnipeg last Tuesday. Mr. Wrigley, the chief commissioner, presided. To his right sits Mr. Thos. R. Smith, of Victoria, assistant commissioner, and the other officers are distributed according to the official position which they hold in the company's service. The factors had been arriving for the last two or three weeks, and at present there are doubtless more of the company's prominent officers in Winnipeg than have ever before been assembled at one time. Among the matters to be discussed will be a revised draft of the rules and regulations governing the service. Of course, the chief subject will be a consideration of the best means of extending the company's business. Some interesting reports from northern officers are expected.

The morning session lasted two hours, and again resumed at two in the afternoon. In the evening Mr. Wrigley entertained all the Hudson Bay officials to a dinner at his residence, which was attended by all the chief factors at present in the city. The council will last for some days yet. The business transacted is all of a private nature, being mainly a discussion of better means for carrying on the work.

Amongst those present from this city are Messrs. T. R. Smith, Alex. Munro, Jas. H. Lawson and W. T. Livock; James Alexander, Quesnelle Mouth, Cariboo; Rich. Hardisty, Edmonton; Laurence Clark, Prince Albert; Robert Macfarlane, Stewart's Lake, British Columbia; P. W. Bell, Chapleau, Michipicoten; Jos. McDougall, Fort Chippewayan, Athabasca; Ewen McDonald, Norway House; W. K. Broughton, Albany, James Bay, Southern department; Peter McKenzie, Ungava, Hudson's Straits; W. Clark and W. H.
